

Supporting the Strengths and Needs of Refugee and Asylum-Seeking Pupils in the School Context

What does this event cover?	An opportunity for staff to discuss and reflect on their role and their work with children and young people. A work discussion group aims to support staff to develop observational skills and deepen their understanding about the meaning of behaviour and the emotional factors that impact on learning and teaching. The hope is that through this learning, different ways of managing pupils' emotional states and of managing the emotional states pupils' induce in staff will evolve more naturally and organically.
